If you violate any of these terms, this Agreement and your license to use the Software may be terminated by Intuit in its sole discretion.

B. ADDITIONAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR THE SOFTWARE

Your license to use the Software provided by Intuit is subject to the General End User License Agreement terms above and the Additional Terms and Conditions which govern your use of the Software indicated below. These Additional Terms and Conditions shall prevail over any conflict or inconsistency with the General End User License Agreement terms above.

1. INTUIT QUICKEN SOFTWARE ("Quicken Software").

1.1 USE LIMITATIONS. IMPORTANT NOTICE. IF YOU ARE USING QUICKEN SOFTWARE, THE FOLLOWING TERMS APPLY TO YOU IN ADDITION TO THE GENERAL END USER LICENSE AGREEMENT TERMS ABOVE. Capitalized terms not otherwise defined below have the meanings provided in the General End User License Agreement.

2. LICENSE GRANT AND RESTRICTIONS. Intuit grants you ("you" and "your" means an individual or single entity) the following rights provided that you comply with all of the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

2.1 You may install and use a copy of the Software on up to two (2) computers used by a single household. If you purchased a valid license for the Software and received an Authentic Intuit CDROM, such CDROM is your backup copy of the Software. If you purchased a valid license and received the Software pre-installed on a new computer or through an electronic download, you may make one backup copy of the Software, but only for the purpose of reinstalling the Software, if needed, on the computer(s) referenced above.

2.2 You are not licensed or permitted under this Agreement to do any of the following: (a) modify, adapt, translate, rent or sublicense (including offering the Software to third parties on an applications service provider or time-sharing basis); (b) assign, loan, resell, transfer or distribute the Software, CDROM(s), or related materials or create derivative works based upon the Software or any part thereof; (c) network the Software; and (d) copy the Software in whole or part, except as expressly stated in (i), (ii), (iii), or (iv) above, or use trade secret information contained in the Software, to develop software to interface with the Software. You agree not to (and not to permit others to): (i) decompile, disassemble, or otherwise reverse engineer the Software, except as otherwise expressly permitted by applicable law; or (ii) remove, alter or obscure any confidentiality or proprietary rights notices (including copyright notices) of Intuit or its licensors on or within the Software or any copies of the Software. All license transfers are subject to written approval by Intuit and may be subject to a transfer fee determined by Intuit in its sole discretion.

1.3 In addition to the Quicken software, the term "Software" includes any other programs, tools, internet-based services provided by participating 3rd parties, components and any "updates" (for example, Software maintenance, service information, help content, bug fixes, or maintenance releases etc.) of the Software that Intuit provides or makes available to you after the date you obtained your initial copy of the Software. You are entitled to download updates to the Software that Intuit generally makes available to other users of the Software. Certain Software may be accompanied by, and will be subject to, additional terms.

3. FINANCIAL INSTITUTION SERVICES.

3.1 General. In connection with Licensee's use of the Software and as part of the functionality of the Software, Licensee may have access to certain online services that may be made available by Licensee's financial institutions ("FI Services"), including online banking, online payment, online investment account download, online bill pay, and online trading. The Software is designed to allow Licensee to access FI Services (if and to the extent provided by Licensee's financial institutions) to set up banking information, download transactions into the Software and otherwise aggregate information from Licensee's account(s) with Licensee's financial institutions. Licensee acknowledges and agrees that Intuit has no control over the provision of FI Services or provision of access to the FI Services by Licensee's financial institutions, does not guarantee that Licensee will be able to use the Software with the FI Services, and will have no liability whatsoever for any actions or inactions on the part of the financial institutions resulting in Licensee's inability to use the Software to access Licensee's accounts, obtain data, download transactions, or otherwise use or access the FI Services. If you lose or forget your user name or password, it will be necessary for you to return to the appropriate financial institution if you have any problems with respect to that user name or password.

3.2 Quicken Software Password Vault. For Quicken Software access to Account Information can be through the optional use of the Password Vault. The Password Vault allows you to store your FI Account Information for multiple financial institutions in one place with a vault password created by yourself to access your FI Account Information. The Password Vault provides cryptographic protection to your data, but factors such as a well-chosen password, physical security for your computer and proper safeguards when you use a network or the Internet are all important factors in the set of protections necessary to provide security for your data.

3.3. Collection of Financial Institution Account Information. Licensee acknowledges that in accessing the FI Services through the Software, Licensee's financial institution account number(s), and the actual data in Licensee's account(s) with such financial institution(s) such as bank balances, credit card charges, debits and deposits (collectively, "FI Account Data"), are collected and stored in the Software. Licensee authorizes Intuit, in conjunction with operation of the Software, to use certain FI Account Data to (i) collect Licensee's FI Account Data, (ii) reformat and manipulate such FI Account Data, (iii) create and provide hypertext links to Licensee's financial institutions, (iv) address errors or service interruptions, (v) enhance the type of data and services we can provide to you in the future, and (vi) take such other actions as are reasonably necessary to perform the actions described in (i) through (v). Licensee further acknowledges that Intuit does not review Licensee's FI Account Data for completeness or accuracy and agrees that Intuit is not responsible for its completeness or accuracy. Any transactions or informational activities performed at any financial institution's website are not made through the Software and Intuit assumes no responsibility for such transactions or activities. Licensee is solely responsible for any charges associated with Licensee's financial institutions.

3.4 Information from Financial Institutions' Websites. Licensee acknowledges and agrees that (i) some financial institutions may not allow the Software to access the FI Services, (ii) financial institutions may make changes to their websites, with or without notice to us, that may prevent or delay aggregation of information from such websites, and (iii) the Software "refreshes" the Quicken Account Data by collecting the FI Account Data nightly, so Licensee's most recent transactions may not be reflected in any account balances or other account information presented to Licensee in the Software. If Licensee sees a discrepancy in Quicken Account Data, and in any case before making any transactions or decisions based on such account information presented in the Software, Licensee should check the last refresh date for the account and confirm Quicken Account Data is correct by following the link back to the applicable financial institution or otherwise confirm that Quicken Account Data is up to date and accurate.

4. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. If you are not satisfied with the Software and (a) You purchased a license of the Software from a retail store, you may uninstall and delete all copies of the Software from your computer(s) and return it within 60 days of purchase to the store where you purchased your license with a dated receipt for a full refund. If the store is unable or unwilling to issue a refund or you obtained the Software directly from Intuit, you may uninstall and delete all copies of the Software and call Intuit Canada Customer Service at 1-888 829-8684; (b) You obtained a license to the Software directly from Intuit via an Internet download, you may submit a written request to Intuit including your name, contact and product order information to Intuit Canada, P.O. Box 4182, Edmonton, Alberta, T6E 4T2; (c) The Software was pre-installed on your computer when you bought it, or if CDROMs came packaged with your computer at no extra charge, follow the manufacturer's applicable return policy; or (d) You obtained a license of the Software by downloading it on your computer, contact the provider of the download site.

5. TERMINATION AND AMENDMENT. The Software is subject to Intuit's discontinuation policy and Intuit reserves the right to discontinue all support for the Software, and/or for any features, online or other services or content accessible through the Software in accordance with its current discontinuation policy. If the Software offers services that require a connection to the internet (including Internet-based services provided by third parties), such as downloading financial data from a participating bank, credit union, credit card, brokerage, mutual fund accounts, online bill paying, and downloading stock/fund quotes and news, such services may expire in accordance with Intuit's current discontinuation policy.

Intuit's current discontinuation policy is to provide support for the Software and for online and other services or content accessible through the Software for the most current version of the Intuit Software plus the prior two years' versions. More information about the discontinuation policy relating to the Intuit Software is available at <http://www.quicken.ca/sunset>.
